

In The End

Drake Bell

Wake up, it's time to get your things together
And drive away
Breathe out, future days will treat you better
That's what they say
Another day
Gone without a sound
But it's okay
If you turn around
And feel the memories bringin' you down
And in the end
Are you stronger?
Do you no longer
Need to recover?
And where have you been
Since it's been over
Over my shoulder
Under my skin
Will you ever return again?
Wake up, the monsters in your head have left you
All to yourself
It's alright, if ugly little things remind you
Of how it felt
Another day

No one tells you what it means
What's in your way
And poisoning your dreams
The darkest place that you've ever been
And in the end
Are you stronger?
Do you no longer
Need to recover?
And where have you been
Since it's been over
Over my shoulder
Under my skin
Will you ever return again?
And in the end
Are you stronger?

Do you no longer
Need to recover?
And where have you been
Since it's been over
Over my shoulder
And under my skin
Will you ever return again?
