Behind the Lines

Genesis

Held the book so tightly in my hand
I saw your picture, heard you call my name
There was something strange, I could not look away
I wanted to be there, I wanted to goBut you gave no reason
And you gave me no warning
But I was with you
Right by your sideJust give me the strength
And I can help you
And they can try their hardest
'Cause they don't frighten meIt is written in the book
The sun is hotter now
Than I felt before
But I feel so cold and I don't know whyBut if the fire within your heart
Can beat the storm
Then I really believe
We gonna make it rightThe time has come now
We gotta show our feelings
But I'm looking right through you
And your heart is emptyBut whatever happened to you
It's too late to change now
'Cause there is nowhere you can run to, no place to hide
Ahh you let me downBut wait a minute, I don't understand
It's getting stronger, so grab my hand
Don't wanna leave you, now I don't wanna go
But I'm losing all controlCan't you see me?
I'm slipping away
And I can only stay
If you've the will to keep me here oh LordIt is written in the bookOh so many times since then I've read those words
I'm waiting to see you, can you see me?
Oh tell me can you see me?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/