Living Out Loud

Aaron Lines

Oh yeahWell, I'm tired of living in this bubble
So today I'm changing everything
My dream's been buried in the rubble
It's time to set it free
No more keeping quiet this life inside of meI'm gonna start living out loud, my soul's been dying
To scream and shout and shatter the silence
It's a beautiful sound when each moment counts
Starting right now, I'm gonna start living out loud, oh yeahWell, I'm not breaking any new ground
And I didn't reinvent the wheel
No, I'm just a man who finally figured out
What he really needs
So I'm turning up the volume of this song inside of meGonna start living out loud, my soul's been dying
To scream and shout and shatter the silence
It's a beautiful sound when each moment counts
Right here, right now, I'm gonna start living out loudAll my demons, I have fought 'em
My inhibitions, I have lost 'em
Wasn't easy, but I taught 'em
To just get out of my wayAnd now every breath I'm breathing
The air is so much sweeter
Now that my heart has finally found a wayTo start living out loud, my soul's been dying
To scream and shout and shatter the silence
It's a beautiful sound, when each moment counts
Right here, right now, I'm gonna start living out loudMy soul's been dying
Scream and shout and shatter the silence
It's a beautiful sound, when each moment counts
Right here and now, I'm gonna start living out loud
Living out loud, yeah oh

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/