Sense Of Humor

Darren Hayes

You will like my sense of humor
You will be addicted to my smile
Laughing all the while
And I will end each conversation
I will leave the room with upper hand
And you will understand, oh
You will find my scent attractive
You will like my real engaging eyes
And playful childlike smile
You will find my style appealing
I will overpower you with wit
And I will be a hit
If only you'd run to me
If only you'd come to me
If only you'd relax upon your rules
And dare to be a love's fool
If only you'd come for me
If only you'd run to me
If only you'd relax upon those rules
And dare to be a love's fool, oh
Waking up from a coma
(Tossing turning)
Sweat has covered my body
(My mouth felt dry)

My life flashing before me
(Nothing much to say)
Most of it was so boring
(Did you hear me say?)
Only I could adore you
(The wind through the trees)
Silently barking orders
(Rushing up to me)
This is only beginning
(Don't anger the sea)
Feel the waves crashing higher and higher on me
(Crash, crash, crash, crash)
If only you'd relax upon your rules
And dare to be a love's fool

If only you'd run to me
If only you'd come to me
If only you'd relax upon your rules
And dare to be a love's fool
If only you'd come for me
If only you'd run to me
If only you'd relax upon those rules
And dare to be a love's fool
You will like my sense of humor
You will like my sense of humor
