Antagonism

Skinny Puppy

flesh makes a stretch through the hoop again no faults nothing ever gained livid fear, our time has come about what was believed now turned inside out drastic hate, frantic air growing up while inching near a reason no throwing back down in it's place cutting in with open space cancer in each new cell rotting food left on the shelfalive yet unaware asking do you really care Nivek, rehgard with care witness our philosophymelting features came to the light remains burn out comes rushing back again cold claws lifeless abject hate power unleashed a vagrant mind in bits grasping for warm embrace detest all views of place remember...alive yet unaware asking do you really care alive aliveexiting crystal set view left below no truth now burning bright inside absinthe grows cold open scar on the wall disregarded no bitter rotten flames rip and follow break through never saw this inching near enough fleeting, the image cracks ripping past the frame love's never came wrapping the face dripping blade in love receding wrenching the image cell who will decide what goals we setalive yet unaware asking do you really carelisten as the hours pass back on the bridge again rebuild nothing's quite the same slipped poison cancer central brain retracing he steps so easily mislaid knife in my hand so don't you make demands discorse at times or is it just in my mindalive yet unaware asking do you really care oh my god my god help me god help me witness eyes eyes reveal witness eyes eyes quickening

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/