

Interview (BBC Bob Harris Session 11 April 1973)

Kevin Ayers

Entrea
Ay, tantas cosas que quiero
Decirte yo quiero
Hacer por ti
But first we must dance Private cotillion style
One lady's fantasy
Trip to Milan tonight
Exclusive shopping spree Mansions await, your scent
That smells just like treasure
Dining with me in suites
That overlooks the shore As we move, then we touch, then we dip
Dancin' with a rich man
As we move, then we touch, then we dip
Shall we dance, shall we dance, shall we dance?
As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss
Dancin' with a rich man
As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss Kissing the feet of you
While listening to bonsais
And your angelic grace
Wearing Victoria Passionate love with you
Hearing you, "Oh, oui oui"
Some antique jewelry from
Kenshire's gallery As we move, then we touch, then we dip
Dancin' with a rich man
As we move, then we touch, then we dip
Shall we dance, shall we dance, shall we dance?
As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss
Dancin' with a rich man
As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss And when you'll elevate
Like visions of grandeur
Mademoiselle and me
Behind the villa doors Sunsets on yellow sand
That's where we rendezvous
Chapels of Valentine
Is just to name a few As we move, then we touch, then we dip
Dancin' with a rich man
As we move, then we touch, then we dip
As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss
Dancin' with a rich man

As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss
As we move, then we touch, then we dip
Dancin' with a rich man
As we move, then we touch, then we dip
Shall we dance, shall we dance, shall we dance?
As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss
Dancin' with a rich man
As we turn, then we stare, then we kiss

Songwriters

ROBERT S. KELLY Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>