Zakarias

Another Idiot

A spokesman, a singer
A cold, broken sinner
A scratch on the rust that was once golden shimmer
With no ground to stand on
So sit back and sink in
A syndrome called thinking
A self consciousness as a ship as it's sinking
As deep as your scars go

I laugh and smile as i cry inside
Shut you out as my eyes are wide
Is one free ride to paradise
Worth the price?

So make it short
Make it sweet
I'm sick of all your sympathy
So make me shout
Make me scream
I'm having all those thoughts you'd leave
But it's what i need

Close my eyes again
(I see my past and my worst mistakes)
This nightmares never end
(I've been awake for three straight days)
Oh!
I never asked for it, but now i really can't decide if i should try to quit
No!
Don't wanna pick a side, because if i was wrong than they would all be right

I laugh and smile as i cry inside
Shut you out as my eyes are wide
And i'm on the edge of paradise

So make it short
Make it sweet
I'm sick of all your sympathy
So make me shout
Make me scream

I'm having all those thoughts you'd leave
But it's what i need

I've got as many voices as my heartbeats left
Screaming in my ears until my one last breath
I've got as many voices as my heartbeats left
Saying they're gonna kill me, they dont know I'm dead

I laugh and smile as i cry inside
Shut you out as my eyes are wide
And i'm on the edge of paradise

(on the edge of paradise)

I'm on the edge of paradise

So make it short
Make it sweet
I'm sick of all your sympathy
So make me shout
Make me scream
I'm having all those thoughts you'd leave
But it's what i need

Lyrics Submitted by Torfinn Lysne

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/