

No Greater Fight

Good Riddance

It comes down to recognition still can't cover up inside Neglect without admission evidence of a rising tide Got to make a change today before it all just fades away
Our moment's now and I think it's worth it Because we're running out of time
No compromise or hesitation
Now that's reality defined Each day consume and spend headfirst into the end Selfish just a little more I see a world worth caring for
On the edge of genocide no conscience left inside Convenience obfuscates and pays as we approach our final days Because the cataclysm's on its way
And we're running out of things to say
For our children are the ones who'll pay
And our silence may be killing us Prophecy's fulfilling us today
