

All The Kids Are Right

Local H

You heard that we were great
But now you think were lame
Since you saw the show last night You hoped that we would rock
And knock it up a notch
Rockin' was nowhere in sight And its never good when it goes bad
No one likes to feel like theyve been had
And it may be okay
But you wont wear our T-shirts now, anymore First the band looked wired
Then the band looked tired
Sluggish and a little slow Hes walking through the set
As drunk as he could get
And what the hell was wrong with Joe? And you could tell the crowd was fading fast
Every song we played looser than the last
And it may be okay
But you wont wear our T-shirts now All the kids, they hold a grudge
Their minds are logged on to the net
And all the kids, they hold a grudge
You fail them and they wont forget it All the kids are tired and turn away
They saw what you did
Youre all wrong and all the kids are right You heard that we were great
But now you know were lame
Since you saw the show last night You hoped that we would rock
You wished that wed just stop
And finally we said good night When we had returned for the encore
You and half the room headed for the door
No one wanted more All the kids, they hold a grudge
Their minds are logged on to the net
All the kids, they hold a grudge
You fail them and they wont forget it All the kids are tired and turn away
All the kids, they hold a grudge
Their minds are logged on to the net All the kids, they hold a grudge
You fail them and they wont forget it
All your cred won't save you from the kids They saw what you did
Youre all wrong and all the kids are right Next!

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>