

She's Been Writing

Ocean Colour Scene

The village girl, ain't it just the way?
Grows her hair long and paints her face
Nobody calls her anyway, it's a shame
Here we go, she knows it all
Writes it all down to tell us all
Nobody hears her at all anymore
She's been writing
She's been writing
She's been
She's been writing
At the fighting bar she knows the law
She'll just get up and sock you on the jaw
After all, she's been in love before nevermore
She's been writing
She's been writing
She's been
She's been writing
Between the stages and the sad refrains, you know she sings
I'm just a dreamer scheming for the show
Between the pages I can hardly stand the pain
The changes brought to you before you had to go
Sandy girl, ain't it just the way?
Grows her hair long and makes mistakes
Nobody calls her anyway nevermore
She's been writing
She's been writing
She's been
She's been writing
She's been writing
She's been writing
She's been
She's been writing
