Blacklisted

Loose lips have sunken our ships
We don't need to be reminded of it
The bridges we walk on have been burned
Just another lesson learned
You cannot discredit me
I've been following destiny
And I've still got a bone to pick with whoever called me a heretic
Miserable misunderstood
You see through everything I said
What makes you want to rely on me?
Living through my ups and downs
I'm just trying to balance out
Not on a crusade to save the world
I just want to be heard
I won't live with my head in my hands
Though I'm too tired to understand
Hopelessly hopeless and out of luck
Please be quiet you selfish fuck
Miserably misunderstood
You see through everything I say
What makes you want to rely on me?
Let's let the music speak for itself
