

Snails

Eric Bolvin

neko come back home show me that you care that love's not just a flare on my sleeve sleep well i pray that cardboard boxes set the perfect stage cause woodgrain makes all man made things seem so out of date life is not a play it's what we make of the people we love snails see the benefits the beauty in every inch so why why oh why why why?

are you quick to kiss?

she bites at blades and leaves goddamn you shrubbery i'm sick of vanity plates should we move to the uk?
cause life here in the states has escaped all the people above like what we make of those people we love

snails see the benefits
the beauty in every inch so why why why why why?
are you quick to kiss?
baby maybe i spoke too soon i'll touch you once you make the first move
snails see the benefits
the beauty in every inch i watch her as she runs my mother jumps the gun she puts her in her arms that is just like my mom never lets go never lets me grow old i wanna pay her back but love is nothing you can tax my family's not rich by any means but i feel we won the lottery that day the rock swallowed the girl and i cried as cameras caught my eyes my tears turn into butterflies that fly away as caskets close a new day comes you'll wake unfold and smile when you feel the sunlight

snails see the benefits
the beauty in every inch
so why why oh why why why?
are you quick to kiss?
baby maybe i spoke too soon
i'll touch you once you make the first move
snails see the benefits
the beauty in every inch

---

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>