Fly

Traci Lords

Fly
Fly
Fly
FlyI am climbing to the top
Of the tallest darkest tree
I need to know where Heaven stops
What lies beyond the dreamAnd I am hearing the cries of angels
They are coming after me
I am tripping, yeah, I am falling
And nothing's as it seemsOh, touch me with your soul
Bless me with your smile
Give to me all your love
And baby watch me fly
Watch me flyOh, touch me with your soul
Bless me with your smile
Give to me all your love
And baby watch me fly
Watch me flyI hear your voice in the distance
You're floating through my mind
I am scared, yeah, really scared
But still I close my eyesAnd then I'm watching a thousand fires
Burning in the rain
And I am tasting my desires
As they pale and fade awayOh, touch me with your soul
Bless me with your smile
Give to me all your love
And baby watch me fly
Watch me flyI have a memory of this place
I came here once before
You gave me shelter for a short while
You hid me from the stormYeah, I gathered flowers along the roadside
And threw them at the moon
And I knew just for a moment
Oh, I could fly with youOh, touch me with your soul
Bless me with your smile
Give to me all your love
And baby watch me fly
Watch me flyTouch me with your soul
Bless me with your smile

Give to me all your love
And baby watch me fly
Watch me flyTouch me with your soul
Bless me with your smile
Give to me all your love
And baby watch me fly
Watch me flyTouch me with your soul
Bless me with your smile
Give to me all your love
And baby watch me fly
Watch me fly
