

No Brakes

Little Boots

Well, I was driving lonely
No passenger to hold me
Ambition drove the appeal Keeping up with the burning
Race the world as it's turning
Stay focused behind the wheel I would say I'm okay
I would say yeah, I'm fine
Wear my tears on the inside But just when I believed
That I'd lost all my need
You crash right into my life And there's no brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes
No brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes Some people spend yearning
On a never ending journey
They always seek, never find I couldn't keep on proving Traveling without moving
My heart was losing its drive I would say it's okay
I would say yeah, it's fine
Ignore what's missing inside But just when I believed
There's nothing left in me
You crash right into my life And there's no brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes
No brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes And there's no brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes
No brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes Sometimes you don't know what's missing
Until it overtakes you, it overtakes everything
And from that moment you don't quite know
How you ever got along without it No brakes, no heart breaks
No heart breaks I would say I'm okay
I would say yeah, I'm fine
Wear my tears on the inside But just when I believed
That I'd lost all my need
You crash right into my life And there's no brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes
No brakes, there's no heart breaks
Love over takes, love over takes And there's no brakes
Love over takes, love over takes
No brakes

Love over takes, love over takes
