

Feels Like Home

Marty Thomas

I know it's gonna take some time
For you to feel that it's alright
I'm not making people choose a side
But I don't mind
You trying to get some people on yours
I know that it takes some time
But I must try
I just want you to understand
When things don't feel right
And you know deep inside
It breaks your heart
But you must get out
And I know you're gonna be alright
And I hope you find your way and I hope your future's bright
But I am the way this feels inside
But all I wanna do is make it through to the other side
No, I don't wanna know why
You just can't let this go
But I must try
I just want you to understand
That it feels like home
That it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
I know I broke out
And it feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
I know I broke out, yeah
And I owe it all
To this fall
Yes, I owe it all
To this fall
And I just want you to understand
That it feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
I know I broke out
And it feels like home
And it knocks me out

Just to feel this way
I know I broke out
I broke out
