Learning to Cry

Justin Townes Earle

I'm learnin' to cry
Since she walked out on me
I'm learnin' to cry
Now that there's nobody here to seeFor years I've bit my tongue
While she run wild 'bout town, oh
Now she's gone and I miss my Little run-aroundI'm learnin' to cry
Since she walked out on me
I'm learnin' to cry
Now that there's nobody here to seeSo I'll get up every day
I'll dress and I'll go to work
I'll smile to cover the pain
And I'll talk my way through the hurtBut at night when I'm alone
I'll come to face my fear
And I'll lie in my bed and I'll hope
That nobody hearsI'm learnin' to cry
Since she walked out on me
I'm learnin' to cry
Now that there's nobody here to seeThere's nobody here to see
