

Knots

All The Luck In The World

Take one more step, just fall away
I know where to go, I'll find the road
Now that we're lost we'll start anew
I know where to go, forget what you're told
Because we found first hand the rules don't bend
And when we tied our knots we left loose ends
In the city of wood, the flames they won't take
But I thought you knew the light's running through
So empty your head and open your eyes
Leave the dark in the dark so that our days can start with the sunrise
Leave the dark in the dark
Because we found first hand the rules don't bend
And when we tied our knots we left loose ends
