

Say Your Name

Plumb

When does a scar
Become a tattoo
When does the sky
Fade back to blue
When does this broken
Heart that I'm holding
Beat on its own
When do I stop
Feeling this burn
When do I live
When will I learn
When will I realize
That look in your eyes
Won't come back

I'm out here
Standing in the pouring rain
Tick tock
Hours all feel the same
I say your name
I say your name
Well I'm right here
Running just as fast as I can
And I swear
I never wanna do this again
I say your name
I say your name

I try to be strong
But I keep dreaming of you
Oh I really wish
This was easy to do
But I've never felt this
Tied up and helpless
And all that I know
Is you're gone
How do I let go

I'm out here

Standing in the pouring rain
Tick tock
Hours all feel the same
I say your name
I say your name
Well I'm right here
Running just as fast as I can
And I swear
I never wanna do this again
I say your name
I say your name

Well I know
That someday
This pain
It will fade
But right now
I can't escape
How I feel
I wanna scream

I'm out here
Standing in the pouring rain
Tick tock
Hours all feel the same
I say your name
I say your name
Well I'm right here
Running just as fast as I can
And I swear
I never wanna do this again
I say your name
I say your name
