I Surrender

Dokken

Leave me here alone
Lying in the burning sun
This world has bleached my bones
I should have taken your advice
Lying all alone
Lost to all my memories
Feeling like a stone
As the sky above me starts to weep
The desert falls
In my mind an endless sea
I will never know
What was and that will never be
Deep within this hole
Flowers lying on my bed
Softly as you speak
Telling me that you've been sad
Leave me here alone
'Cause I won't be coming back again
The moments that we own

Lie scattered in the sand
I surrender, surrender
All my love for you
Please remember, remember babe
I'll be there for you
Leave me here alone
'Cause I won't be coming back again
The moments that we own
Lie broken in the hands of time
I surrender, I surrender
All my love for you
Please remember, remember
I'll be there for you
I surrender, surrender
All my love for you
Please remember, remember babe
I'll be there for you, for you
