Disappointed

Face to Face

Reality is what you want to see
It shouldn't make a difference to me
I put my trust in what you had to say
It didn't make a difference anywayI know you've tried your "very best"
And I'm so glad
Thank you so muchDisappointment is what you've made this Expectations overrated
Disappointment is what you've made this
My ambition is so deflatedReality is different for me
My eyes are opened wide enough to see
I've listened to your explinations why
The more you fail, the harder that I try
