

The Devil's Sin

The Glass Child

I have lead the devils sin.
With a blind before my eyes.
I have bloodstains on my skin.
Got buried in his lies.
Felt his teeth upon my thighs. My mind in his grip and through my lips the devils words I let slip
and then your breath and soul
like a thief I stole
Oh God Im losing control He screw my head around
Then I shot you down
I no longer know whats wrong or right If you only knew every move I do
Is the devils fist thrown to hurt you You are a the stake
In a dead hearts game
I am the way your heart will break Theres evil in me
I lead the devils sin I dont want you to be the one whos left all alone
Ill make you the one to go
He said hell help me scare you away but after every attack he leaves me whispering please stay My mind in his grip and through my lips
The devils words I let slip
And then your breath and soul
like a thief I stole
Oh God Im losing control He screw my head around
Then I shot you down
I no longer know whats wrong or right If I only knew every move I do
Is the devils fist thrown to hurt you You are the stake in a dead hearts game
I am the way your heart will break
Theres evil in in me I lead the devils sin
I wear him on my skin
I am how your heart breaks
This is a dead hearts game
