

My Violent Heart

Halo33

You and I, we may look the same
But we are very far apart
There's bullet holes where my compassion used to be
And there is violence in my heart
Into fire you can send us
From the fire we return
You can label us a consequence
Of how much you'll have to learn
You can try but you'll never understand
This is something you will never understand
Can you hear it now? Hear it coming now?
Can you hear it now?
On hands and knees we crawl
You cannot stop us all
Our bones, our skin
We will not let you in

You have set something in motion
Much greater than you've ever known
Standing there in all your grand naivet

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>