Something to Believe In

Citizen Cope

Chorus
you keep giving me something to believe in
and I keep giving all coz the walls are falling downthey say that loving yourself is loving someone else is like you've always been right there when I needed you
standing in the night
trying to get it right
coz this here life
can test you over and over again
you keep giving me something to believe in
and I keep giving all
coz the walls are falling down is it impossible to be learned is it impossible to be taught coz everybody can burned and anybody could be caught i'm standing in the night
trying to get it right
coz this here life
can test you over and over again(chorus)coz the walls are falling down
coz the walls are falling down
standing in the night
trying to get it right

Lyrics provided by