

Fakey Fake

Earlimart

Always been down with one of them too
You were the fake and I was the fool
But you were too young to know all the rules
So I was the fake and you were the fool Something undone, words went unsung
I'll never be clean, you know what I mean
But you were too young to know all the rules
So I was the fake and you were the fool Something that's warm, something that's good
Can never be free, not that it should
Something that's warm, something that's good
Can never be free, not that it should
