He Will Always Be There

The O.C. Supertones

Who am I that You would pay me mind?
Who am I that You would take the time to find me?
Who am I that You'd reach out your hand?
Lord, what am I but just a sinful sinking man?I didn't even know who God was Until He told me He's my Dad
And it's just because He loved me
And He'd rather die than live without meHe loved me and He'd rather go through
Hell than go to Heaven without me
And I love Him and I'll stay with Him until the end of time
One thing I know, God gave His life for mineHe will always be, will always be
He will always be there
He will always be there
He will always be there
He will always be thereWho am I that You would know my name?
Who am I that You'd help me win this losing game?
Who am I that You'd stay all day by my side?
God, I fail but at least you know I triedI didn't even know who I was Then God told me I'm His son
And it's just because He loved me
And He'd rather die than live without meHe loved me and He'd rather go through
Hell than go to Heaven without me
And I love Him and I'll stay with Him until the end of time
One thing I know, God gave His life for mineHe will always be, will always be
He will always be there
He will always be there
He will always be there
He will always be thereI count on God, I love Him best
He helps me through my trials and tests
He'll always be there when I call
Always catch me when I fallI count on God, I love Him best
He helps me through my trials and tests
He'll always be there when I call
Always catch me when I fallI count on God, I love Him best
He helps me through my trials and tests
He'll always be there when I call
Always catch me when I fallI count on God, I love Him best
He helps me through my trials and tests
He'll always be there when I call
Always catch me when I fallHe will always be there

He will always be there
He will always be there
He will always be thereHe will always be there
He will always be there
He will always be there
He will always be there
