

Every Moment

Curt Anderson

Open up the skies, show me who you are
I feel my heart waking
Into another day breaking through the dark
I let the light pour in
You see all the dreams I am holding tight
Should I just let go
I take another breath full of grace alive And you bring my hope to life
And you bring my hope to life
So I'll live in every moment Now I'll live in every moment
Now the future's just an arms reach out
This hope is not an empty sound
I'll live in every moment now
I'll live in every moment now You've given me the match, now I'll start a fire
It's not just an empty wish
But this is where faith and doubt collide Will you bring my hope to life
Will you bring my hope to life
So I'll live in every moment Now I'll live in every moment
Now the future's just an arms reach out
This hope is not an empty sound
I'll live in every moment now
I'll live in every moment now
