Selfish Man

Flogging Molly

I don't eat, I just devour, everyone in every hour
All is me, is all I need and that's all that I care
Propelled through all this madness, by your beauty and my sadness
I'll never change or rearrange, till I've finished what I've startedAnd life leads me here
It shows me, I have never really loved no one but me
Like the time you slipped through my hand
I'll never understand why I'm such a selfish manWalk around me, not before me, I'll pretend not to ignore you
But I'll compromise if I realize you can do something for me
I'm ugly and you know it, but you think that I'm a poet
So I'll keep the rhyme if I feel in time, it gets me where I'm goingAnd life leads me here
It shows me, I have never really loved no one but me
Like the time you slipped through my hand and I'll never understand
No, I'll never understand why I'm such a selfish manAll I heard was an unearthly silence
Apart from the violence, explode in my head
Where all at once was this moment of beauty
No more since it slew me, no never again, again, againNo I'll never understand
No I'll never understand, why I'm such a selfish man
Selfish man, selfish man
Selfish man, selfish man, selfish man
