

Lovin You from a Distance

Brian McKnight

Don't pack your bags, let's miss your flight
Oh, would it be that bad to stay one more night?
I pray for rain, snow in Hollywood
Just hopin' your plans would change and you'll stand for good I don't wanna make that try, I'm too lax
And have to come home all alone, already wishin' that you neva left
Every time you're gone it's like a part of me's missing Girl, I hate lovin' you from a distance
All the nights we'd share, I feel
Like having nothing to hold onto
I'm hoping this time things will be different
Cuz I hate lovin' you from a distance
No, there's no bracing myself
Or when I have to watch you walk away
It feels like my world comes crashing down with each step you take
And it drives me mad, each and every time
That you look back and wave goodbye I don't wanna wake up without you laying there
With nothing but my t-shirt on and your hair everywhere
I can't go on with you gone, girl, I need you to listen
Oh, I hate lovin' you from a distance
All the nights we'd share, I feel
Like having nothing to hold onto
I'm hoping this time things will be different
Cuz I hate lovin' you from a distance
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>