

Burn Everything That Bears Our Name

Coalesce

If you still need to double check my work
To make sure you agree
If you need to sign an "X" before and after
Every title before it's relevant Then I've wasted six years of my life
On the simple notion that this was an open forum
Then I've wasted six years Burn them, if your edge is so sharp it severs ties
Burn them, if you've never been proud, burn them all
Burn them, if you've never been ashamed
Burn them, burn them, burn them and be done with it Burn them, if the music only plays second stage
Burn them, if you've never been scared
Burn them, if your edge is so sharp, it severs ties
Burn them, if you've never been proud Burn them, burn them, burn them and be done with it
Burn them, burn them, burn them and be done with it And none of us have all the answers that's the whole point
Just the opinions that serve and piss off the masses
Whether left, right or right at home
