Caught By The River

Doves

Son, what have you done?
You're caught by the river
You're coming undoneLife, you know it can't be so easy
But you can't just leave it
'Cause you're not in control no moreAnd you give it all away
Would you give it all away now?
Don't let it come apart
Don't want to see you come apartSon, what are you doing?
You learned a hard lesson
When you stood by the waterYou and I were so full of love and hope
Would you give it all up now?
Would you give in just to spite them all?And you give it all away
Would you give it all away now?
Don't let it come apart
Don't want to see you come apartCould you give it all away
And you give it all away now
Don't let it come apart
Don't want to see you come apartLay I lay in the long grass
So many people
So many people passI stay, stay here and lie on back
Get down in the cornfields
Stay till we're caught at lastGive it all away
Give it all away now
Don't let it come apart
Don't want to see you come apartAnd you give it all away
And you give it all away now
Don't let it come apart
Don't want to see you come apartAnd you give it all away
And you give it all away
And you give it all away
...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/