

Runaway (Red Bull Crashed Ice)

Hail The Villain

Welcome to the end of everything that haunts me
Somehow I pretend all was meant to be
I am not the saint here, never the good son
Hell has taken over and I know When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away, run away Where do I belong? So sick of being shadows
Scared to walk alone, now it's time to roam
I have always wanted all that I could own
My wish was never granted 'til now When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away, run away Welcome to the end of everything that haunts me
Somehow I pretend all was meant to be
I am not the saint here, never the good son
Hell has taken over and won When I say go When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...run away, run away
When I say go...go, go, go, go, go
When I say go...go, go, go, go
