

I'm Charming

The Black Dahlia Murder

Yeah, Im running off the rails
Ive finally gone crazy
And the ground is spinning faster
Than my teeth could ever grind I know its a shame
When success does complain
But I dont remember my name
In the absolute wrong I have made this place to lay my head
A reoccurring nightmare
I never trust, I never rest
Ive become another victim
Of this self-serving device My cock does all the talking
My mouth now just for lie
Im winding down to nothing
Its suddenly so clear
Im winding down to nothing A human smoke that fills the air
What can you believe?
That is the question
I have you on a string
Something yet up my sleeve Bury me deep as I have an unborn child
In a world yet cold enough to host
This seed of endless ugliness
In a sea of corruption A wake of lie so wildly I have stirred
Im winding down to nothing
Its suddenly so clear
Im winding down to nothing A human smoke that fills the air
What can you believe?
That is the question
I have you on a string
Something yet up my sleeve My love is but a lie
Always reaping what I have sown
Im taking you down with me
To degrees youll never know
