

Study War

Moby

Finally brother after a while the battle will be over
For that day when we shall lay down our burden and study war no more
Finally brother after a while the battle will be over
For that day when we shall lay down our burden and study war no more Finally brother after a while the battle
will be over
For that day when we shall lay down our burden and study war no more
Finally brother after a while the battle will be over
For that day when we shall lay down our burden and study war no more Finally brother after a while the battle
will be over
For that day when we shall lay down our burden and study war no more The battle will be over
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over Finally brother after a while the battle will be over
For that day when we shall lay down our burden and study war no more
Finally brother after a while the battle will be over
For that day when we shall lay down our burden and study war no more The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over, there will be no war
The battle will be over

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>