Tell On You

Bif Naked

It seemed like days had passed
Are you finished?
I could no longer
Move my armsThe only thing left in the room
Was the silence

Can you still hear the breaking glass When it hit my face? Even the mice were laughing

At the smell of pain

Here we go again

To the depths of no returnPlease remember, I know who you are Someday, I'll have the strength to tellAs the man looked over me

With his inquiries

I swore you never did it

I licked the sweat from my palmsAlone am I with your face burned in my mind

You are the one

(The fucker)

Who deserves to die

It should have never been mePlease remember, I know who you are Someday, I'll have the strength to tellI pray for you as a little boy What must have happened to make you so cruel?

(And I pray that you rot in hell)Please remember, I know who you are Someday, I'll have the strength to tell

On you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/