

Spinning Away

Brian Eno & Jah Wobble

Up on a hill, as the day dissolves
With my pencil turning moments into life
One by one, all the stars appear

As the great winds of the planet spiral inSpinning away, like the night sky

In the million insect storm the constellations form

On a hill, under a raven sky
I have no idea exactly where I've beenSome kind of change

Some kind of spinning away
With every single line

Moving further out in timeSpinning away, like the night sky
(Some kind of spinning away)

I have no idea exactly where I've beenAnd it's here and there
And here and there

Some kind of spinning awayAnd here and there
Some kind of spinning away

And here and thereAnd here and there
Some kind of spinning away

And here and thereAnd here and there
And here and there

And here and there
