

Together Again

Evanescence

Never thought that I'd be leaving you today
So alone and wondering why I feel this way
So wide the world
Can love remember how to get me home to you someday? We'll be together again
All just a dream in the end
We'll be together again So many fears were swimming around and around in my mind
Who would have dreamed the secrets we would find
I've found a world where love and dreams and darkness all collide
Maybe this time we can leave our broken world behind We'll be together again
All just a dream in the end
