

The Harder They Fall

John Denver

Aspen, Colorado on a Saturday night
Jesse wishes she was at home
She's mad because her baby just aint treatin her right
So afraid of being alone Said, she's heard some stories hes been runnin around
Said, somehow she knows its all true
She says a breaking heart can make a terrible sound
Said, she dont know what to do Think about a bad time, it cant get much worse
Think about a hard line, take it to the wall
This wont be the last time, it sure aint the first
The bigger they are, the harder they fall You might say, shes caught between a rock and a hard place
You might think, she just cant win
Some just cant recover from a slap in the face
Some can jump right up and start all over again Think about a bad time, it cant get much worse
Think about a hard line and take it to the wall
This wont be the last time, it sure aint the first
The bigger they are, the harder they fall Think about a bad time, it cant get much worse
Think about a hard line, take it to the wall
This wont be the last time it sure aint the first
The bigger they are, the harder they fall Aspen, Colorado on a Saturday night
Jesse wishes she was at home
Shes mad because her baby just aint treatin her right
But so afraid of being alone, she's so afraid of being alone Nobody wants to be all alone, no more
I don't want to sleep all alone, no more
