

Not Tonight (feat. Louise Carver)

Joe Bermudez

Alone in an empty room
Missing you next to me
Drowning myself under the sheets
Running out of air to breathe Woke up
To your footsteps
Heard you sneaking down the hallway
Choked up
Watching you, watching me
As you make your get away
It's written all over your face
There is no mistake
Nothing I can say
Will change the way you feel tonight
It's written all over your face
And I can't find a trace
Of the person that I fell in love with
At least not tonight In bed with the memories
Holding them next to me
Fooling myself love's coming home
Dreaming that you'd never leave Woke up
To this nightmare
Caught you sneaking down the hallway
Choked up
Watching you, watching me
As you make your get away
It's written all over your face
There is no mistake
Nothing I can say
Will change the way you feel tonight
It's written all over your face
And I can't find a trace
Of the person that I fell in love with
At least not tonight All I have is questions
There are no answers
All I have is questions
There are no answers
There are no answers
There are no answers
It's written all over your face
There is no mistake

Nothing I can say
Will change the way you feel tonight
It's written all over your face
And I can't find a trace
Of the person that I fell in love with
At least not tonight
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>