Sweet Marie

Ben Sollee

Marie,
it's hard to see you give yourself away
like that even though I'm one of those who chooses to take

No, it ain't right
but what's done is done

There will be no riots
in the streets
no one to scream
your name
cause you have always been there
and you will remain Marie

Marie,
the trees have stopped growing and the water's turning black they might call it love but they want you for something you'll eventually lack I hear the sound of steel slowing steel
the platform comes in view

They're taking you away on that evening train

But there will be no riots
in the streets
no one to scream
your name
cause you have always
been there
and you will remain

Marie

Oh, sweet Marie
Sweet Marie
Oooh,
Sweet Marie,
sweet Marie
