

Belief Revival

Inme

Worst case scenario becomes a reality,
And you don't see me laughing,
I couldn't ever have predicted this fatality,
Now I'm dead, does it please you?
All my suffering,
Was in vain, I can't blame anyone,
Would you do it all again?
I hope I never see you again,
Cos those days are over,
This has to be the toughest thing,
That I've ever been through,
I stood alone,
I couldn't have known this would happen,
And had I known,
My belief wouldn't have been so mis-shapen.
I was never one to swallow moonshine,
I'd rather spit it back in your face,
I won't deliberately try to avoid conflict,
Ever again just to please you.
All my suffering,
Was in vain, I can't blame anyone,
Would you do it all again?

I hope I never see you again,
Cos those days are over,
This has to be the toughest thing,
That I've ever been through.
I stood alone,
I couldn't have known this would happen,
And had I known,
My belief wouldn't have been so mis-shapen.
All my suffering,
Was in vain, I can't blame anyone,
Would you do it all again?
I hope I never see you again,
Cos those days are over,
This has to be the toughest thing,
That I've ever been through.
I stood alone,

I couldn't have known this would happen,
And had I known,
My belief wouldn't have been so mis-shapen,
I'm so out of line,
I couldn't have planned this if I tried,
My belief is revived,
Maybe my sorrow can finally drown.
