Melting Vibes

The Mellowells

I don't ever wanna be you
As if someone would even let me
Who's to say I won't forget you
For reasons unexplained that aren't true
Let's go easy
Make moves slowly
Please let go you've got
One thing coming
From my head I'll let it out again
I can't get out of my head
And my body really wants to stay in bed
But we don't really mind at all they said
Just keep moving
Throw back what's not in your plans
And I'll take what I can fit into my hands
And wash away the melting vibes again
Never ending

Paint the walls a kind of dark gray and kind of just absorb the growing fade
I'm visceral without you in here a room I made to stay away from fear
Let's go easy, take what's different, fill the void and make Perfect pictures, from my head I'll let it out again
I can't get out of my head
And my body really wants to stay in bed
But we don't really mind at all they said
Just keep moving
Throw back what's not in your plans
And I'll take what I can fit into my hands
And wash away the melting vibes again
Never ending
