

Better Off

Presence

I feel that way again, it hurts when I breathe
I want you to know this time I'm not afraid to leave
I won't make the same mistakes of giving you all of me
No more will I leave my heart exposed for you to see And all this time hurts so much
I've grown strong enough, I have to tell you
Open your eyes, watch me walk away
No long goodbyes, blessing(?) in disguise I'll find love again
I keep telling myself I'm better off without you Tell me how you deal with feeling so alone Sleeping with the memory of the way we used to be Closure's hard to find, erase yourself of me
Letting go is the only way for the both of us to see I close the door, walk away
It's cold outside and I'm all alone again But all this time hurts so much
I've grown strong enough, I have to tell you
Open your eyes, watch me walk away
No long goodbyes, blessing(?) in disguise I'll find love again
I keep telling myself I'm better off without you I feel that way again, it hurts when I breathe
I want you to know this time I'm not afraid to leave
Now tell me how you deal with feeling so alone and sleeping with the memory of the way we used to be (x2) Open your eyes, watch me walk away
No long goodbyes, blessing(?) in disguise I'll find love again
I keep telling myself I'm better off without you (x2) I'm better off without you (x5)
