

Breathing

Nihilist Spasm Band

I take my hat off, bow before the greatness
You're so much braver I give you credit for
    Somehow the Grays create a harmony
        And no color can add a flavor...
        I've started to feel like...
        Know the face, familiar stranger
        I'm not a child, I feel misunderstood
        I built a bridge, you use the tunnel... now...

- The rope we are pulling is slipping away from me
All this wasted time is killing me... and I've started to feel like...
    [x2]I can not control my life anymore
        Feel a need to leave and breathe on my own
        I remember all the broken songs of our life
        Maybe one more wrong will make it all right...
        I just really need to be alone now...
