

Tendons

The Joy Formidable

Careful at the party, careful all the night
Careful, all that hunting
Left easily behind
Those creatures in my stories, stronger generals
He come on to each other
There is no one else around

Tendons like we all
Tendons stretched too far
Tumbled over night, rewinding steady
Tendering the darker
Punching down the storm
Held above the stone court
No more lonely

I can't decide what needs building
And what needs picking
What needs filling in
This love, this love is like a swarm
Who can't see you red
You can hope for

Tendons like we all
Tendons stretched too far
Tumbled over night, rewinding steady
Tendering the darker
Punching down the storm
Held above the stone court
No more lonely

Until it breaks key
Until it takes me
Until it's hardcore
Nothing is close
Come enjoy, come around
You think I understand
Because you're Superman
Nothing loves me and confront this love

You said, you said have all the lightning, baby

Maybe itâ€™s something
Maybe itâ€™s real
But baby like flowers in yesterdayâ€™s field
And this all on we go
Itâ€™s like the kicks is hunting
â€™Cause I donâ€™t want through my bones
Empty me, held so tight
Before I see
Let your grieve point to me
Tell me now if itâ€™s what you wanted?

Is this what you wanted?
Let yourself pour into me

Tendons like we all
Tendons stretched too far

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by Bryan, Rhiannon / Davies, Rhydian
Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>