Paper Cut

Vanessa Hudgens

Its not the feeling like when you touch a flame
No, its not like when someone calls you a bad name
Its not like the hurt when you slip and fall down
No, its not like any of these, what Ive found isYour love hurts like a paper cut, so sweet
Never even feel the slice youre so deep
It seems so hard as but only at first
Like a paper cut the pain grows worseIts not so much in the words that you dont say
Its not when you act in the distant cold way
Its more in your eyes how you look at me
Like you no longer care for what I seeYour love hurts like a paper cut, so sweet
Never even feel the slice youre so deep
It seems so hard as but only at first
Like a paper cut the pain grows worseYou had to go and show me just how good
Your love could be then you threw it all away
Now I cant help but feel a brand new pain
So Im asking baby please stayYour love hurts like a paper cut, so sweet
Never even feel the slice youre so deep
It seems so hard as but only at first
Like a paper cut the pain grows worseOh, oh, oh, oh, the pain grows worse
Oh, oh, oh, oh, the pain grows worse
Oh, oh, the pains grows worse
