Same As the Sun

Jesse Cole

Itâ€™s weird seeing you right now
Itâ€™s been so long since youâ€™ve been around
Seems like your hair is gone a little longer
Maybe youâ€™ve grown a little stronger after all these years

When I was young I used to watch the trains role by
Itâ€™s the same as passing time without you now
And Iâ€™ll always love you
Itâ€™s been so long I know Iâ€™m not supposed to
And Iâ€˜ll always love you
Same as the wind blows, same as the sun comes up

Now I can see you through the window frame
You painting like a picture of you mother of course when she was younger
Iâ€™m lighting up a cigarette just to burn the light out
Drinking whiskey just to shut my eyes now

When I was young I used to watch the trains role by
Itâ€™s the same as passing time without you now
And Iâ€™ll always love you
Itâ€™s been so long I know Iâ€™m not supposed to
And I â€˜ll always love you
Same as the wind blows, same as the sun comes up
Same as the wind blows, same as the sun comes up
Same as the wind blows, same as the sun comes up
Iâ€™ll always love you, oh yes, I will, I will, always love you
