

Coming Out Strong

Ana Johnsson

It's strange how everything changed
Through your eyes the colors were fading
You've tried, you can't see the world the same

It's cold falling down, like a shadow on the groundFollow me and I'll take you somewhere lighter than you've been

Come with me, I won't let you fall apart, not again
And it's been so long, just barely holding on
We're coming out strongHey, you're smiling again
Leave the scars, the future is waiting
You've tried but you can't escape yourself

It's cold coming down, like a shadow in the crowdFollow me and I'll take you somewhere lighter than you've been

Come with me, I won't let you fall apart, not again
And it's been so long, just barely holding on
We're coming out strongDon't you let yourself down
Just throw all that old shit out
Here's the rest of your life

And it's starting nowFollow me and I'll take you someplace lighter than you've been
Come with me, I won't let you fall apart, no never again

And it's been so long, just barely holding on
We're coming out strongFollow me and I'll take you somewhere lighter than you've been Come with me, I won't let you fall apart, never again
And it's been so long, just barely holding on
We're coming out strongWe'll be coming out strong
We'll be coming out strong
We're coming out strong
