Generation Genocide

Jersey

Well he counted his cards but there's nothing left in his deck
Drugs money and alcohol broke his hollow soul
But now he's on his knees screaming, self inflicted addiction
Too far gone, too far gone to take my helping handThe generation, generation, genocide
Kamikaze casualties are falling by my side
It's a generation, generation, genocide
Kamikaze casualties are falling by my side
And I'll see the sun rising, rising up again
And I wish I could say the same for my fallen friendsWell I've been there, done that, and I've walked that line
Playing blood knuckles and rumbles, it's love hate with this town
I said your own friends run around town, throwing your name on the ground
No back! No spine! Ain't no friends of mineThe generation, generation, genocide
Kamikaze casualties are falling by my side
It's a generation, genocide
Kamikaze casualties are falling by my side
And I'll see the sun rising, rising up again
And I wish I could say the same for my fallen friends with you
