

Come Back Home

Rachel Potter

Amazing Grace, how sweet the sound
That saved a wretch like me
I once was lost, but now I'm found
Was blind, but now I see
Come back home is a long road, one that many travel
But it takes some time to gather up the strength to make it through
But as times pass by we feel as though the road is getting shorter
And we can make it home in time to see You
You call our names out every day but we need to hear You say
Come back home to the one who wants you more than anything
Come back home to the truth that will always set you free
Leave your doubts and fears behind to believe
Come back home, come back home, to me
Pack up the bags and try to put it all behind you
But it never really ever seems to truly go away
Until you try to open up your broken heart to Jesus
And his hands will melt all the pain away
He guides our journey everyday but we need to hear Him say
Come back home to the one who wants you more
than anything
Come back home to the truth that will always set you free
Leave your doubts and fears behind to believe
Come back home, come back home, to me
Reach out your hand to me Lord, 'cause I'm blinded by this pain
I'm following your love Lord, oh, I hear you say
Come back home to the one who wants you more than anything
Come back home to the truth that will always set you free
Leave your doubts and fears behind to believe
Come back home, come back home, to me
Oh, come back home to the one who wants you more than anything
Come back home to the truth that will always set you free
Leave your doubts and fears behind to believe
Come back home, come back home, to me
Open up your eyes so you can finally believe
Come back home, come back home, to me
