Diehard

Megaton

Jim Bakker's your excuse you won't believe (he's sinned. like you) too big-headed to admit you failed it's easier to cop-out easier to bail easier to be a lazy slob as you turn your head and sluff it off you build a wall around yourself and put reality on a shelfdiehard - the last to go down diehard - you're gonna stick around diehard - refuse to believe diehard - that God could beI'm not trying to condemn your life is yours for you to live but the gentle approach you denied as you chose to believe the lies face the facts: you're not in control satan cast and you swallowed whole believe in God and think for yourself or believe the lies and rot in hellso get down on your knees then take his hand to get on your feet
leave this life don't shun the new don't turn from what you know is true cause it's the same old people attitudes, and lives you can choose to believe a lie you can choose to live this life or follow God and live a new life
